Currently there are 14 school districts serving 20,000 students in Beaver County.

From 1970 to 2010 the county lost about 36,000 residents. From 2010 to 2030 it may lose another 12,000 residents.

This means Beaver County could have 34,000 fewer school age children and 32,500 fewer enrolled students in 2030 than it had in 1970.

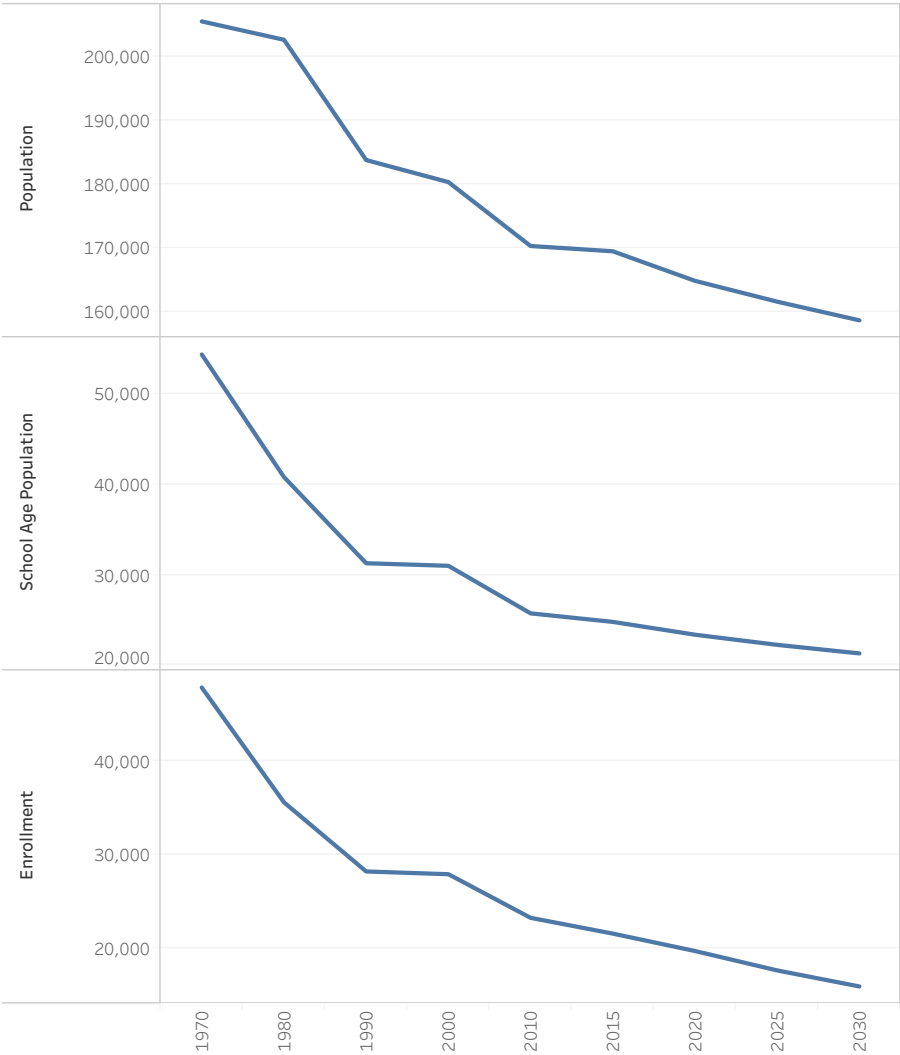

If these trends continue they will challenge the ability of the county's schools to provide a high quality education without creating an uncompetitive tax burden.

This site explores how these demographic trends might impact the future of K-12 education in Beaver County..

Countywide Demographics

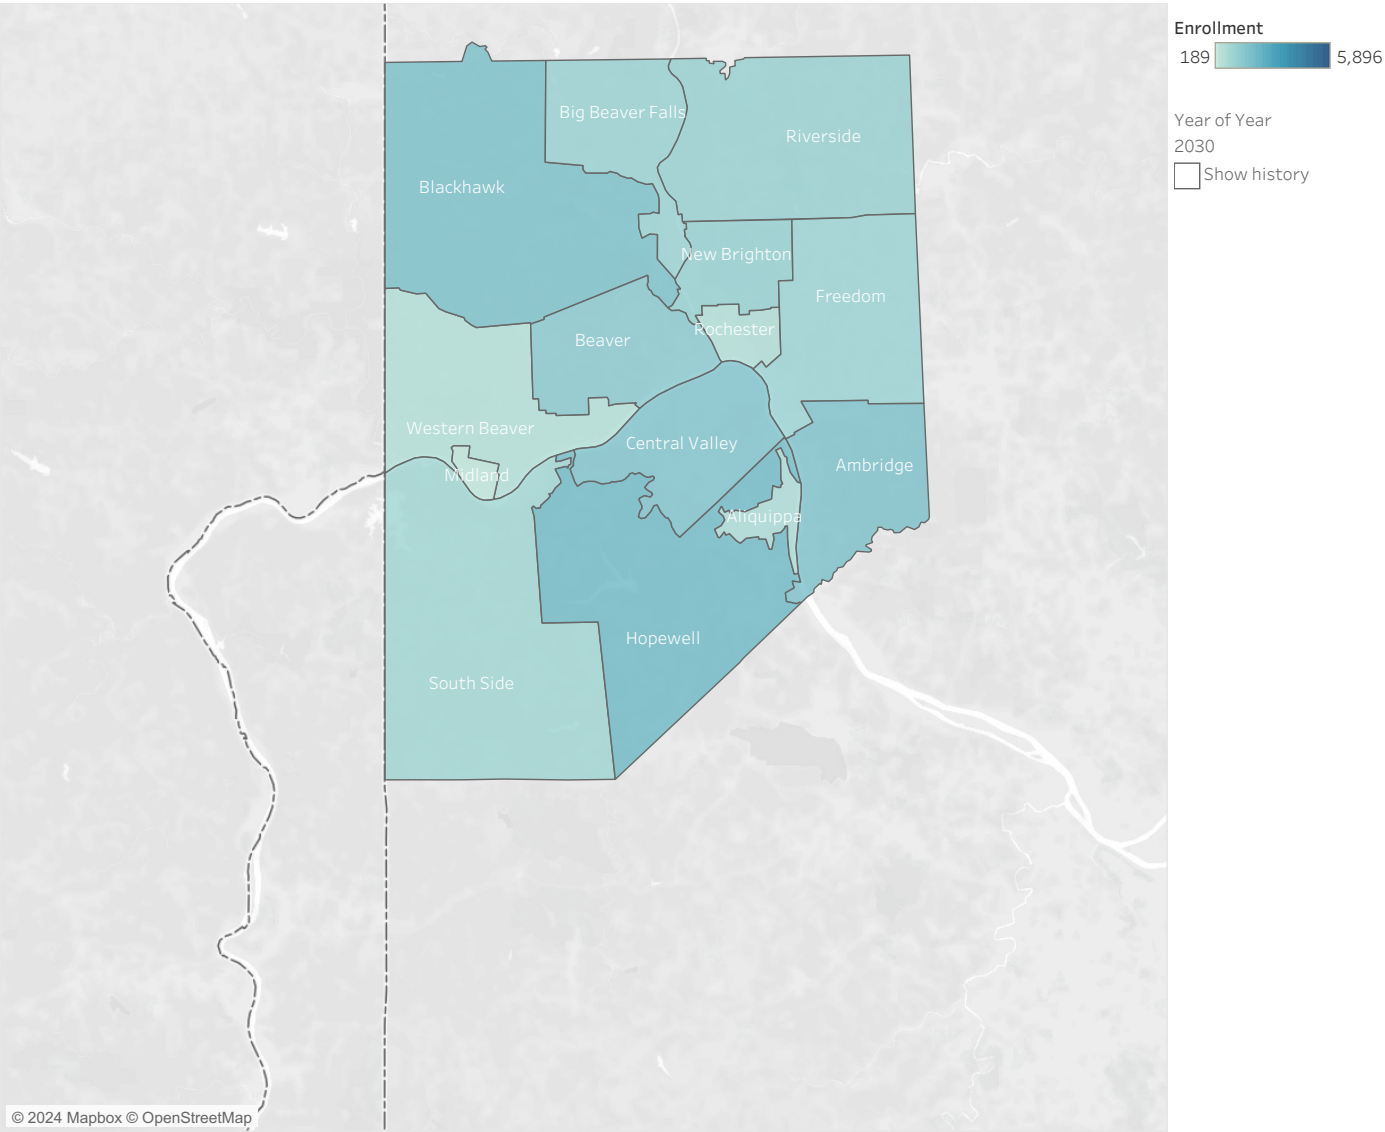

A loss of more than 48,000 residents from 1970 to 2030 will drive changes in school age children and enrollment.

The school age population could decline by 34,000 not including a drop of children under 5 years of age.

By 2030, Beaver County is projected to have 32,500 fewer enrolled students than it had in 1970.
