

INTERACTIVE How we share the refugee burden

Australia ranks 48th for number of refugees hosted

... and 62nd for refugees as a share of population.

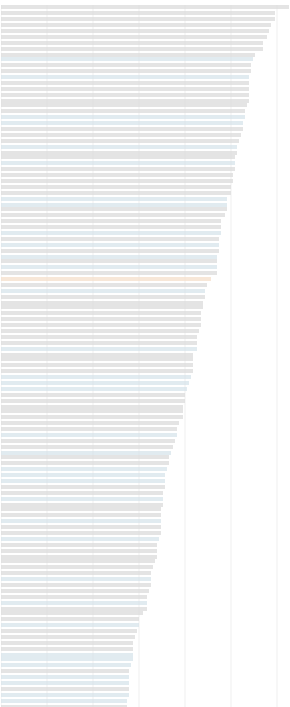

Measured against economic wealth, our rank drops to 74.

More than 85 per cent of refugees are hosted in developing countries. Australia hosts 0.3 per cent of the 11.7 million refugees under the UNHCR's mandate.

Where refugees are hosted

Global rankings

Log scale used to make small values visible.

INTERACTIVE How we share the refugee burden

Australia ranks 48th for number of refugees hosted

... and 62nd for refugees as a share of population.

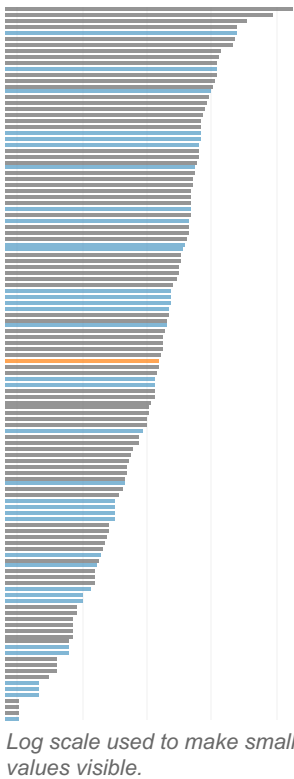

Measured against economic wealth, our rank drops to 74.

Australia hosts one refugee per 680 residents, compared with one refugee per six residents in Lebanon and one per 3200 in New Zealand.

Refugees as a share of residents

Global rankings

INTERACTIVE How we share the refugee burden

Australia ranks 48th for number of refugees hosted

... and 62nd for refugees as a share of population.

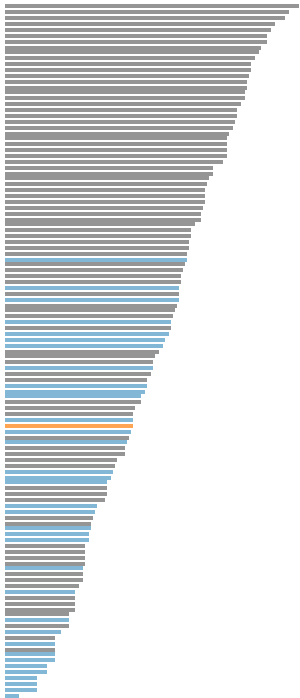

Measured against economic wealth, our rank drops to 74.

Pakistan's ratio of refugees to its wealth is 640 times higher than Australia's. However, Australia is 16 times more generous than New Zealand by this measure.

Ratio of refugees to wealth

Global rankings

Log scale used to make small values visible.